

The 2019 Lewis Memorial Lifetime Achievement Award

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Deadline: The deadline for nominations is July 31, 2019.

Established in 1950, the Lewis Memorial Lifetime Achievement Award is recognized throughout the graphic arts industry as the highest honor awarded to any individual in our business. Named for Abraham Lewis, founder of Graphic Arts Monthly, and his sons Louis and Myron, the award pays homage to the business leaders who have gone far beyond standard obligations to become a significant force in shaping the business of producing printed communications.

Nominating an individual provides an unparalleled opportunity to honor someone you believe has made a major, long-term contribution to our industry.

The award recipient will be selected by a panel of industry leaders and will be honored at Printing Industries of America's Fall Administrative Meeting November 15–17 in Houston, TX.

ELIGIBILITY AND SELECTION CRITERIA

A nominee for the Lewis Award must:

- Be widely recognized as having made a major contribution to the graphic arts industry
- Have a record of participating in both local and national professional activities
- Have been active in the industry over a period of time and involved in many facets of the graphic arts industry
- Not be an employee of any graphic arts association

The nominee is not required to be a member of Printing Industries of America; is not limited by age, sex, race, or geographic location; and may be either living or deceased.

NOMINATION PROCEDURES

To nominate an individual, please complete the nomination form and enclose a cover letter that briefly introduces the nominee. Please include the following information about the nominee:

1. Your reasons for nominating this individual
2. Dates of accomplishments; approximate dates are acceptable
3. The industry organizations in which the nominee has been active (give position titles held with approximate dates for each organization)
4. Organizations outside of the graphic arts industry in which the nominee has been or is currently active
5. Three industry leaders, with their phone numbers, whom we may contact in reference to the accomplishments of the nominee

Additional supporting information such as letters of support, a formal biographical description, or a résumé for the candidate are not required but are welcomed.
